NEWS from the NVMA: Thank you to all who maintain your NVMA membership! The biggest topics for small animal vets this year were the Rabies bill and the upcoming tax bill. NVMA dues pay a lobbyist to get our best interests heard and this was evident with the Rabies issue. A bill was proposed which would allow Rabies to be given by non-veterinary persons. The lobbyist pushed against this bill, which did not pass. More than likely, this will come up again in the future. An upcoming issue is the taxation of veterinary services. The NVMA board members are very hopeful that this will not pass as well, but we need to make sure we support a lobbyist to be in Lincoln getting our voices heard. If you are not a member of NVMA, please consider joining. We have to protect our profession and the NVMA plays a vital role in that at the state level.
